Course

Design Project Management - Vision to Reality

BEIL0008 | 6 Units of Credit

Overview

In BEIL0008 Design Project Management students will explore how each of the Faculty’s professional disciplines, working together & individually, can project manage the design process & the project management knowledge areas of design scope, time & cost for a Client’s vision for their buildings, to make it a reality. “From vision & ideas comes reality”.

The Course is also about effective & efficient teamwork, group decision making & team communications that are so essential to successfully project manage a Client’s design to meet their vision. Students will explore & integrate multiple perspectives from different built environment disciplines & expertise. Lectures will introduce topics & industry experts will discuss current practice in the design project management.

Students will discuss interdisciplinary design project management processes in online learning assignments, independently explore & document areas of project management design scope, design time & design cost while working co-operatively in interdisciplinary Major Assignment teams.
