Overview

Our Built Environment Faculty is fundamentally about creating value. Each of the Built Environment professional disciplines strives to produce value for their clients, their communities, their society and themselves. But we rarely examine how we "manage this value creation", define "the value for whom" and prioritise the often "conflicting values being created" in our professional life and work. In BEIL0010 Creating Value for Built Environment Clients, we will explore how each of our professional disciplines, working together and individually, can maximise the value we create for our Clients, our communities, our society and ourselves. The course is also about effective teamwork, group decision making and team communications that is so essential to successful value creation.
